A Greetings to you all,

Darling Kindergarten has caring teachers who guide children patiently. They use simple and activity-based methods to help children understand lessons easily. The school encourages children to take part in games and outdoor activities. Sports help children stay healthy, active, and develop teamwork and discipline.

Kindergarten programs include play-based physical activities for overall development. The academic activities are designed to be interesting and suitable for young children. Through rhymes, storytelling, drawing, and basic learning exercises, children develop language, thinking, and social skills. Activity-based learning supports emotional and intellectual growth.

The school follows Montessori-style learning where children learn through hands-on activities and practical experiences. This method helps children become independent, creative, and confident learners.

Bible education helps children learn moral values such as kindness, love, respect, and honesty. It supports character building and spiritual development in children.

Greetings to you all.

I am Deboral, mother of N. Jafflet Olive. My daughter studied at Darling Kindergarten for the past three years (Pre-KG, LKG, and UKG).

During these three years, I never had to worry about my child because of the caring and dedicated teachers. They always ensured that snacks, lunch, and water were properly taken, which helped maintain the children's health very well.

The school provides excellent support in sports activities and encourages children to achieve. I especially appreciate the efforts taken to develop each child's individual skills through various competitions. Awarding medals and recognizing achievements is truly motivating for the kids.

All children are given equal opportunities to participate in every activity. Teachers carefully observe each child's abilities and guide them accordingly. They also communicate kindly and respectfully with parents.

Overall, these three years have been wonderful. The children have enjoyed their time, learned well, and developed their skills impressively. My heartfelt thanks to all the teachers and the school management.
